

Prosthesis

Information provided to you by:

This is price information on a prosthetic appliance for patients who have had a mastectomy. This list is not an endorsement of any specific product, and it is not intended as a complete list of all suppliers. Some prices vary according to size and are subject to change by the manufacturer. The suppliers are listed alphabetically.

Many insurance policies will pay either all or a percentage of the purchase price of a permanent breast form and supportive bras. Medicare will pay 80% on a prosthesis. Be sure to call your insurance to determine who is a preferred provider for the current year and get a doctor's written prescription for a prosthesis. You may need to pay for the prosthesis and file for reimbursement from your insurance plan. It is advisable to call ahead for an appointment with a fitter and provide the prosthesis supplier with your insurance information when you schedule an appointment.
